

** Is Mr. X Really Retiring from CallMeMrX.com?

Lots of emails and questions coming in after you heard me on the Czbecast debating a potential "retirement" the past couple months. Well...let's just say...I ain't done yet!

Why have I thought about hanging up the old parlay calculator? Well, I'm getting old and tired, but really its mostly about the changes in the gambling industry. The insane amount of advertising spend by the big boys to lure the youth into opening new accounts; with lots of bonus money and endless gimmicks. Then load up the offers on "Same Game Parlays" and various other ways to LOSE money, and quickly! I barely recognize the industry at all! YOU DON'T WIN THAT WAY!

I've spent 39 years gambling successfully; 25 years giving out MLB Season Total winners on Czabe's various shows, and now 7 years TEACHING gambling on Callmemrx.com. With a goal of: How to do it RIGHT and be an enjoyable and successful hobby!

As the popularity of the website subscriptions grew, I was asked many times if I could cut the cost, by people who say "I just don't gamble enough to afford the price." I always say, "then it's NOT for you!" The reason the fees have been what they are, is because I DON'T WANT PEOPLE GAMBLING WHO SHOULDN'T BE GAMBLING! That's even more important today - as more and more (mostly young adults) are being suckered into giving their money away.

I can't quit now! I realized that now more than ever, gamblers need good fundamentals and need to avoid the traps of the 5 team parlays & bonus offers! I have decided to do another year, along with a very special offer to make this the biggest year yet. I'm so tired of "admin" work & multiple signup periods that I'm going to offer a huge discount to all those that sign up for the full year at once. (MLB Totals/NCAA Tourney/NFL & NCAA Football) But it is ONLY available until March 8th.

This cost $649 last year, but I want to offer a deal for what is likely my last year. How much? It hit me in the middle of the night as I was debating hanging it up. So, from now until March 8, it's the "Moses Malone rate"; 4 - 4 - 4! (Yeah, most of you are too young to remember Moses and his "Fo-Fo-Fo".)

Just go to callmemrx.com, select the TEAM X Annual Plan, and at checkout enter code "MOSES" to get the full year for just $444. That's MLB Season Totals, March Madness, and NFL/NCAA football next fall all at one time, at the lowest price ever!

Remember, until March 8 only.

Appreciate the continued support of the website as it enters the 8th MLB season!

Thanks,
Mr. X
